

Rhode Island Primary Voting Day Wednesday, September 9th

- Early voting for the RI Primary Election starts August 20, and Election Day is Wednesday, September 9 this year!
- There are very important Primary races this year, including Governor, Lt. Governor and Attorney General
- The Primaries often decide who gets elected in November – less than 10% of Democrat voters usually vote in them!
- There are many candidates posing as Democrats this year – get the facts on their positions and financial backers.
- We suggest voting EARLY (August 20-September 8) in PERSON to make sure your voice is heard.

Your vote on Primary Day is critical for the most qualified candidates to advance to November!

www.vote.sos.ri.gov: Your
1-Stop Voting Resource

Rhode Island Primary Voting Day Wednesday, September 9th

- Early voting for the RI Primary Election starts August 20, and Election Day is Wednesday, September 9 this year!
- There are very important Primary races this year, including Governor, Lt. Governor and Attorney General
- The Primaries often decide who gets elected in November – less than 10% of Democrat voters usually vote in them!
- There are many candidates posing as Democrats this year – get the facts on their positions and financial backers.
- We suggest voting EARLY (August 20-September 8) in PERSON to make sure your voice is heard.

Your vote on Primary Day is critical for the most qualified candidates to advance to November!

www.vote.sos.ri.gov: Your
1-Stop Voting Resource

Rhode Island Primary Voting Day Wednesday, September 9th

- Early voting for the RI Primary Election starts August 20, and Election Day is Wednesday, September 9 this year!
- There are very important Primary races this year, including Governor, Lt. Governor and Attorney General
- The Primaries often decide who gets elected in November – less than 10% of Democrat voters usually vote in them!
- There are many candidates posing as Democrats this year – get the facts on their positions and financial backers.
- We suggest voting EARLY (August 20-September 8) in PERSON to make sure your voice is heard.

Your vote on Primary Day is critical for the most qualified candidates to advance to November!

www.vote.sos.ri.gov: Your
1-Stop Voting Resource

Rhode Island Primary Voting Day Wednesday, September 9th

- Early voting for the RI Primary Election starts August 20, and Election Day is Wednesday, September 9 this year!
- There are very important Primary races this year, including Governor, Lt. Governor and Attorney General
- The Primaries often decide who gets elected in November – less than 10% of Democrat voters usually vote in them!
- There are many candidates posing as Democrats this year – get the facts on their positions and financial backers.
- We suggest voting EARLY (August 20-September 8) in PERSON to make sure your voice is heard.

Your vote on Primary Day is critical for the most qualified candidates to advance to November!

www.vote.sos.ri.gov: Your
1-Stop Voting Resource